	Examiner Michael Brown	Art Unit 3764

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 25-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fuhrman.

Fuhrman discloses in figures 1-4 an article of furniture including a cavity (the opening between the seats) comprising a base 42, coupled to a frame (28,32), a first support 14, the frame includes two legs 32, a main rail 26, the first support includes a narrow front portion (the end of 14 that is adjacent to the support 16) and a wider rear portion (the portion of the seat with the indent portion), the first support includes a seat (12 and 14 are seats) and a second support 12 adjusted independently of the first support (fig. 1).

Fuhrman discloses in figures 1-4 an apparatus for at least partially supporting human body comprising a frame (28, 32) including two semicircular members (12, 14) connected to a first support surface 22.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 25-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fuhrman in view of Mitchum.

Fuhrman discloses in figures 1-4 an article of furniture, substantially as claimed. However, it may be argued that Fuhrman doesn't disclose the first support having a narrow front portion and a wide rear portion. Mitchum teaches figure 1 an article of furniture comprising a first support 15 having a narrow front portion and a wide rear portion. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made that the first support as taught by Mitchum could be substituted for the first support disclosed by Fuhrman because either seat could be used to support the users buttock.

Conclusion

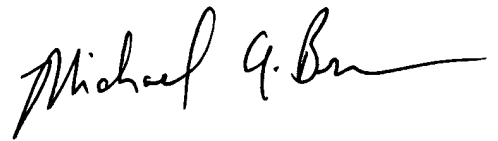

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. No additional prior art was cited during the first office action.
